Actors, dancers, musicians perform for Coast people

Actors, dancers, musicians and other artists who are part of the 65 member entourage for a million dollar Floating Arts Center are arriving on the Mississippi Gulf Coast this week in preparation for the week-long schedule of activities which will launch the American Wind Symphony's Bicentennial Odyssey 1976.

The epoch tour of America's waterways will begin on May 1 following a packed week of cultural and performing arts programs to be held along the coast. (see schedule of events attached).

For several months a committee of Gulf Coast residents has been planning and coordinating the many details essential for the week-long schedule of children's theatre, poetry readings, exhibitions, concerts, symposiums, and dance presentations.

Robert Boudreau, Director of the American Wind Symphony Orchestra, and the Floating Arts Center, says the group hopes to enrich the spirit of Americans in the Bicentennial year, and to awaken new commitments to the arts from Americans of every age. Mississippi will host the initial performance and launching of the floating barge which will carry music and the arts to 76 other American cities on America's waterways when it departs from Bert Jones Harbor in Gulfport on May 1.

The 195 foot vessel, Point Counterpoint II, is painted silver and has a concert stage designed to be acoustically perfect for the wind, brass and percussion orchestra. It also has a 200 seat combination theatre.

Boudreau stated the vessel is "a perfect vehicle for bringing together people of many and diverse talents in order to celebrate our nation's 200th birthday."

On the Gulf Coast nature will provide its own vessel setting of blue waters, white sand beaches, and colorful harbors, as the vessel moves between Jackson and Harrison county communities.

Although many of the activities are being carried out into the communities to the elementary, junior high and high schools, and to public areas readily accessible for citizens of the communities, the public is invited to visit and tour the craft wherever it is moored.

In Gulfport the barge will be harbored at Bert Jones Harbor; in Biloxi at the Small Craft Harbor, and in Ocean Springs at the Inner Harbor.

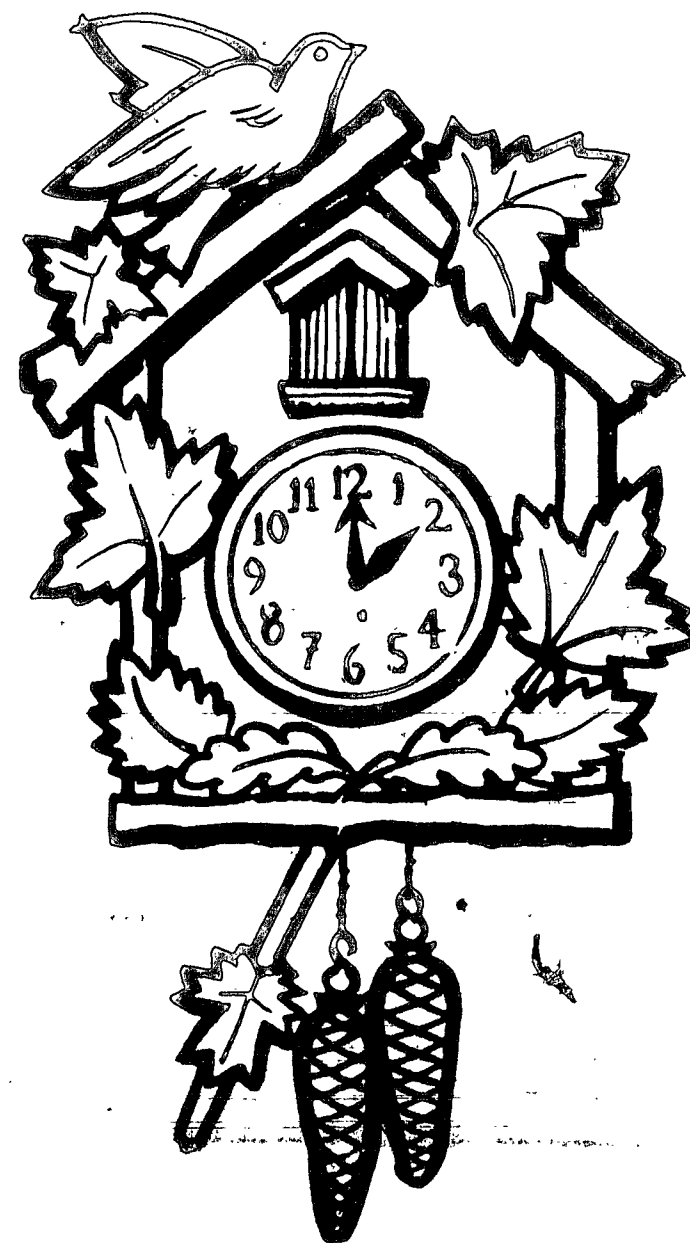

The Wind Symphony has played for tens of thousands of music lovers from London's Thames River to the Hudson and Monogahela for two decades. Southern hospitality is being extended to the 65 member entourage as Gulf Coast residents have welcomed them into homes for the 10 day Gulf Coast stay.

Boudreau emphasized the idea of artists living with families was in keeping with the group's artist-in-residence aim—to allow and provide for an educational program for local band students who play similar instruments or are involved in other areas of drama, dance or art.

The week-long program will include chamber concerts in each community, lecture-demonstrations in schools, and performances which will be shared in an intimate, person-to-person encounter.

The 15,000 mile, 1976 tour marks the first time communities and families across the nation will share in hosting and participating in the 'cultural host' program.

The week's activities will close on Friday evening, April 30th, with a concert from the vessel's concert stage by the 45-member Woodwind Symphony performing Handel's "Royal Fireworks" accompanied by a spectacular fireworks display over the waters. Another special of the evening will be the narration of The American Sampler by national Bicentennial Director, John Warner of Washington, D.C. accompanied by the orchestra, and voices of local choirs.

Turn clocks up one hour Sunday

Those long days of summer will actually begin this weekend when the nation switches to Daylight Savings Time Sunday at 2 a.m.

This time, we turn the clock forward one hour, much to the chagrin of Saturday night daters and others on curfew.

Early risers won't see the sun at 6 a.m., but will be able to enjoy it until approximately 8 p.m. due to the time switch.

Sunbathers should remember that the hours when the sun's rays are the strongest, and most likely to cause a burn, will now be from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. rather than from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Mosquito season reflects increase in heartworms

"Heartworm is not getting closer—it's here."

That headline—and the accompanying article—startled many readers of the highly-respected publication "Dogs In Canada," according to the Gaines Dog Research Center.

"Ten years ago," began the article by staff writer Joan Morden. "If Canadian dog owners thought about heartworm at all they identified the parasite as belonging to the area south of the Mason-Dixon line. And there it was thought, heartworm would remain. The reason for this, according to the article, was that heartworm was spread by a species of mosquito indigenous to the southeastern U.S.A., a mosquito that would never travel north because it could not survive the Canadian climate. Why get concerned over heartworm?"

"Whenever the occasional dog died suddenly and the post mortem examination revealed heartworm as the cause of death, this was blamed on some recent southern contact," the article continued.

These were just two of the fallacies surrounding the heartworm story, according to Gaines officials. It takes a long time for a dog to build up a lethal burden of heartworms. And although this parasite will continue to be most prevalent in areas where mosquitoes are a year-round problem, transmission of heartworm is not confined to a single species of mosquito. Of the more than 60 species known to support heartworm development, some are native to Canada. Cases of heartworm are currently under treatment on dogs that have never left the province of Ontario.

To American dog owners, the message should be an obvious one. Heartworm is as much a danger to the family pet in Maine, Michigan or New Jersey as it is in Florida, Louisiana or Texas. Since the mosquito is the carrier, all dogs are potential victims.

The effects can be so slow in developing that an owner may be unaware of any problems until the dog is seriously infected. Rather than take any chances, the Gaines Dog Research Center advises all dog owners to have the family dog tested by their veterinarian now to determine if heartworms are present. Breeders should encourage puppy buyers to include a heartworm check as part of an annual physical examination as the puppy matures.

If the dog has heartworms, treatment must be undertaken immediately by the veterinarian. If the dog is free of adult heartworms, preventive medication is available and probably will be prescribed by the veterinarian. For a few cents a day, the dog can be given medicine that will keep him free of the disease. However, medication must be administered daily until the first heavy frost of the year kills the mosquitoes.

The most important point to remember, the Center adds, is that the dog must be checked by the veterinarian before showing any symptoms of the illness.

Wool incentive payments almost triple over 1974

Wool producers of Pearl River and Hancock Counties have received incentive payments after filing ap-

Jackson coin show to be held May 15-16

The semiannual Greater Jackson Coin Show will be held May 15-16 at the Coliseum Ramada Inn, according to an announcement by Ed Lofton, publicity chairman. Hours Saturday will be 10 a.m. until 7 p.m., and on Sunday noon until 6 p.m.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admittance fee. Representatives from the local coin clubs will be available to discuss membership with potential members. Dealers from several states will be in attendance to display and sell coins, supplies, coin jewelry, and related items. Bourse chairman, Horace Whitfield, states that there will be at least 30 dealers at the show. Items at a reasonable price will be available for the beginner as well as the advanced collector.

C. L. Savell of Braxton, Mississippi, is again serving as general chairman. Parents are invited to bring children to the show to view some of the obsolete coinage and currency of the United States.

This rate is based on the difference between the national average price of 44.7 cents a pound received by producers during 1975 and the previously announced incentive price of 72 cents a pound. Incentive payments to wool growers are required under the National Wool Act of 1954, as amended.

The 1975 payment rate compares with the 1974 rate of 21.8 percent. Payments of 1975 marketings of wool will be about $40 million compared to payments of $15 million on 1974 marketings.

A grower's payment on 1975 marketings is determined by multiplying the net dollar return from the sale of wool by the payment rate of 61.1 percent. This percentage method of payment is designed to encourage growers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. In any marketing year for which incentive payments are made, the higher the price a grower receives for his wool, the larger his payment.

Deduction of 1.5 cents a pound from 1975 shorn wool payments were made to finance advertising, sales promotion and related market development activities.

Wool producers should file application for incentive payments for 1976 after wool is sold this year.

Blending Tradition And Progress

Progress means more than just the passing of time... it means learning new and better ways to do things. Since we began serving families in Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Hancock County, we've dedicated ourselves to keeping our service and facilities up-to-date while retaining the warmth and caring of yesterday.

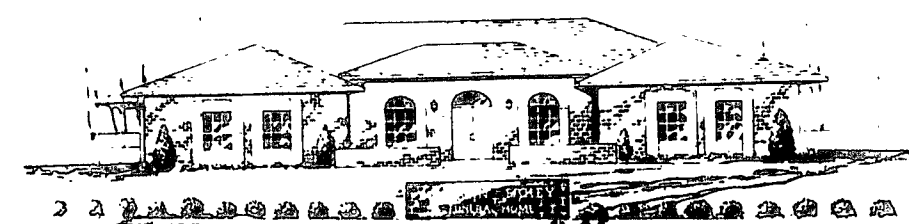

To assure the comfort and convenience of everyone, we've constructed a new facility with ample space for off-street parking. And in designing the building, we included the first formal chapel in any funeral home in Hancock County.

Our fleet of the latest automotive equipment is always well-maintained, and we provide each family with a comfortable, dignified limousine.

While we're proud of our facilities and equipment, we know that funeral service is basically a matter of "people helping people." We have a local resident manager and staff in Bay St. Louis who are supported by 28 experienced professionals at our other locations. We even have a full-time person to handle all necessary work at the cemetery.

To help families complete their financial plans, we offer a comprehensive funeral insurance program which has made it possible for over 6,000 Hancock County residents to have such insurance. Our pre-arrangement plan is the only one in the county in which all funds are deposited in trust with the Hancock Bank.

We're honored when a family turns to us. By blending tradition and progress, we want to serve in a way that will let them know they made the right choice.

From The Barber's Shop

By Nathan Barber

First Baptist Church Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Whether we like it or not a great deal of our lives seems to revolve around the "old green back," or dollar.

Anybody can talk about money and usually has no problem with sharing his opinions concerning his own philosophy of finances. However, the moment a pastor begins to talk about about money and the responsibilities which we each have in a proper use of money, all of a sudden—he's meddling.

Money is a good servant but a dangerous and demanding master. Most of our problems concerning money have come from allowing the dollar to use people rather than people using the dollar. The Bible teaches that we are to be stewards, caretakers, of those things which have been entrusted to us. As a steward we are to be wise users of everything we have including money. When properly understood in the scripture, the tithe, which is 10 percent of a person's earnings, was by law to be given back to God. Many people have continued to take this kind of legalistic approach to their giving. We have failed to understand that the tithe is not where we're to quit but rather where we're to begin.

Because of what God has done for us in Jesus Christ, we no longer feel bound by the law as if we were servants. Now in Christ we have been made children of God, joint heirs with Christ and want to be good stewards in response to our fathers love. We have learned that the saying, "You can't outgive God" is true.

Peace of mind regarding our stewardship of possessions does not come to a person in what one has to spend, but rather in how one spends what he has. Becoming the master of the dollar is a fantastic victory.

Consumer's notebook

Discovering you're in debt over your head

By PATRICIA COUCH

Today people from all income groups are waking up to discover that they are over their heads in debt. What can you do if you're one of those unfortunate souls?

If this is your problem, the first thing to do is visit your creditors and explain the situation. Don't make the mistake of trying to hide from your bill collectors. That will only make your problems much more severe and probably damage your credit rating. Your creditors do not want your home or car. They want you to pay your debts, and they'll often bend over backwards to help you do so. They'll probably offer you a number of alternatives such as re-financing your loan to reduce your monthly payments.

You may want to talk to a banker about consolidating all your debts so your various bills are concentrated into one large, monthly payment. This has its advantages in that it helps you straighten out your finances, but you will be paying more in interest in the long run.

You may also want to talk to a financial counselor. In many cities local merchants provide a financial counseling service free of charge. The counselor will show you where you went wrong and how you can prevent it from happening again. The counselor will probably set up a very strict budget for you to follow until your bills are paid. It will be difficult to practice a Spartan lifestyle, but it is the only way to avoid unwanted foreclosures on your house and other possessions.

If there is no other solution than to declare bankruptcy, contact a lawyer who specializes in that field. You can find the attorney you need through the lawyer referral service in your area or the local bar association. It will cost you a fee to consult with the attorney, but once your bankruptcy petition is filed, your creditors are prohibited from harassing you. And you can begin anew—a much wiser consumer.

Author of Moby Dick

sailed in a Navy Man-of-War

In August 1843 the Navy frigate United States dropped anchor off Honolulu and signed on several new men. One of them was Herman Melville, Muster No. 572, who later drew from his experiences at sea for his best-selling novels of the mid-1800's. One of those books, Moby Dick, became an American classic.

Before joining the Navy, Melville sailed on several whaling vessels in the South Seas, and packed enough adventures into four years of sailing to last a lifetime. Whaling, however, did not make him rich.

April 1843 found him nearly destitute, ashore in Honolulu, setting up pins in a bowling alley and working as a handyman. Tired of the drudgery, weary of whaling, and very homesick, Melville enlisted in the U.S. Navy as an ordinary seaman aboard the United States, flagship of the Pacific Squadron.

During his 14 months aboard the United States, Melville served as a maintopman, deck swabber, cook (a position he did not relish), took part in battle drills and learned numerous other jobs expected of an ordinary seaman in those days.

The future author struck his shipmates as a lively, impressionable young sailor who was eager to learn the ropes of a warship, but not so eager for the rigors of military life.

He lamented uncomfortable living conditions, long hours, monotonous food, harsh punishments for trivial offenses, and officers' seeming indifference toward their men.

Shortly after receiving his discharge in 1844, Melville published a satiric, fictionalized account of his short Navy "career" in White Jacket; or, the World in a Man-of-War. The novel became a best-selling sea story in the year 1849.

Despite its carping, tongue-in-check style, modern readers find the book an invaluable first-hand look at the U.S. Navy's great days of sail, with pages of detailed accounts of daily life aboard pre-Civil War naval vessels.

When the young novelist saw the Navy it was little more than half a century old. Today, 130 years later, the author of Moby Dick would be astonished at the changes time and technology have made in the U.S. Navy.

Louisiana plantation named center for arts

NAPOLEONVILLE, LA.—Madewood Plantation House in Napoleonville, La., heart of the sugar industry in Louisiana, will be the backdrop for a kaleidoscope of musical and heritage activities during the third annual Madewood Arts Festival, April 23, 24, and 25 and May 2nd.

One of Louisiana's architectural gems in the Greek Revival style, Madewood is not only open the year around as a museum but is now a center for the performing arts. This adaptive use of a heritage house is one of the most unique programs in America, comparable to Wolftrap in Vienna, Virginia which also presents cultural programs and stages arts and crafts exhibitions and demonstrations.

Highlight of the forthcoming Madewood Arts Festival '76 is the concert and opera, scheduled April 23 in the elegant ballroom of Madewood. Linda Zoghy, noted soprano of Mobile, Ala. will be presented in a concert of songs and arias. Following a wine and cheese interval, she will sing the lead role in Bach's "Coffee Cantata" which will be staged in 18th century costumes. The program will be followed by a Viennese dinner and coffee on the galleries of Madewood Plantation House.

ACADIAN FAIR

Two days of the Madewood Arts Festival are devoted to the Acadian Fair, when the gaities and jole de vivre of the Acadian Country and the sounds of its music and crafts pervades the Plantation grounds. From 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. on April 24 and 25 from the air will reverberate with continuous entertainment,

Have blood pressure checked

Take a preventive step against heart attack

Feeling rotten lately? Any physical problems of any kind? Any adverse symptoms you don't understand? If you can answer NO to all these questions, watch out, you may still have a serious medical problem. You could have high blood pressure. And if you do, you could be a candidate for a stroke or heart attack. And you'd never know it. May is High Blood Pressure Month, and the Mississippi Heart Association is urging everyone to have his/her blood pressure checked.

"Hypertension is sneaky," said Dr. Gerald Hopkins, chairman, National High Blood Pressure Month of the Mississippi Heart Association. "There are no symptoms normally, so you'd never know you have it."

And finally, more than half of all the deaths in the U.S. this year will be related to cardiovascular disease. "The picture doesn't have to be so grim," Dr. Hopkins points out. "Identifying high blood pressure makes the rest easy. With proper medicines, diet and preventive programs there is no reason not to lead normal, healthy lives. But we can't help anyone who won't let us."

Yet, hypertension is easily found, he said, and a simple preventive program can usually control it.

According to Dr. Hopkins, have your pressure checked by your doctor, or at a local screening. The examination is quick and inexpensive. Don't wait to feel badly before you go because you might not have a sign before it's too late.

If you do have high blood pressure, Dr. Hopkins said your doctor will probably prescribe a sensible diet that's low in salt, saturated fats and cholesterol. He may advise you to lose weight and get more exercise, which you should do, and take whatever medication he may prescribe.

If you need encouragement, consider these statistics, Dr. Hopkins said.

There are nearly 800,000 deaths in America every year from heart attack and stroke. And high blood pressure is a major factor in 500,000 of them.

The National Park Service has placed 10 shade shelters on the island on a trial basis, and if the design and style prove satisfactory, more will be placed at the lifeguard-protected beach and in a waiting area near the dock.

Discipline workshop to be held at USM

HATTIESBURG -- Discipline in the classroom. How should it be imposed? The lash, a psychological evaluation of the offender? An appeal to the individual? Utilization of a parental conference?

These questions, and many more, will be answered during a workshop on discipline techniques, to be held at the University of Southern Mississippi June 28-July 9, with Dr. Johnny Purvis of the College of Education and Psychology directing.

Purvis said the subject is of vital concern both to teachers, administrators, parents, and the children involved.

Three semester hours of graduate credit, as well as teacher certificate renewal credit may be earned.

Topics cover a wide range. These include, but are not limited to simple behavior modification techniques; techniques used in the past and present in U.S. schools; and the legal aspects of disciplining students; alternative educational programs for students not progressing and adjusting to the "normal" classroom; how to analyze behavior problems, etc.

Consultants are drawn from every area which may conceivably be involved in the basic workshop subject. The names will be announced at a later date.

Information and forms may be secured from Box 56, Southern Station, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Advanced alcoholism institute formed

LONG BEACH--The University of Southern Mississippi and several Coast agencies have combined forces for an Advanced Alcoholism Institute.

To be held at USM-Gulf Park, the May 24-28 event is aimed at those persons involved in alcoholism programs who have previously attended a general school on the subject, but who now wish to focus on developing competencies needed to implement intervention and treatment components.

Sponsorship is by USM's Department of Counseling and Guidance, Gulfport-Biloxi Veterans Administration Center, and the Gulf Coast Mental Health Care Center, Gulfport. Several other agencies are furnishing consultants.

Keynote speaker at a noon luncheon May 24 is Willard O. Foster, Jr., special assistant to the director, National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. He will talk on alcoholism funding and programming.

The format will include workshops (each participant chooses one area); films and media material reviews; and evening lecture series. Of special interest to clergy is the May 25 subject, Pastoral Counseling and Alcoholism. Dr. John Alcorn, workshop director and chairman of USM's Department of Counseling and Guidance, says that virtually all of the some 36 resource people are from the Gulf Coast area and

Educational benefits available

Education benefits are available to many dependents of veterans whose death or total and permanent disability was the result of their service. Merlyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for Regional Office, said today.

Dependents of service personnel missing in action, captured, interned or forcibly detained in line of duty by a foreign power for more than 90 days may also qualify for the VA education benefits.

In general, those eligible are children between 18 and 28 years of age and the spouses of veterans whose death or total and permanent disability resulted from military service after the beginning of the Spanish-American War on April 28, 1898.

Unless extended under certain conditions, a child's VA educational eligibility ends on his 28th birthday, plus any time period after his 18th birthday required to process the application.

The eligibility of a spouse ends on November 30, 1978, or 10 years from the date the veteran was found to have a total and permanent service-connected disability, or 10 years from the date of his death, whichever is later.

Spouses of service personnel declared missing in action, captured or detained in line of duty, are eligible for education benefits until December 24, 1980, or for 10 years from the date the listing was made, whichever is later, Cook said.

For a spouse intending to take apprenticeship, on-the-job or correspondence training, eligibility is based on the 10-year period or October 24, 1982, whichever is later.

A child's marriage is not a barrier to the education benefits, Cook said, but the remarriage of a spouse ends his or her eligibility unless that marriage is terminated by death or divorce.

The VA benefits provide up to 36 months of schooling, or the equivalent of 36 months if the student is enrolled on a part-time basis.

How to...

Win a better job----now!

For more than 20 years on an informal and formal basis, I've worked daily in the increasingly active career counseling profession. In recent weeks, several key questions have frequently been asked of me regarding individual career choices. I'd like to devote this column to discussing these career questions while offering some answers and suggestions to that end.

It seems most working men and women wish for a better job believing their talents are not being fully utilized in their present work. In short, their productivity is low and their responsibilities seem to be dwindling in scope and importance, at least to their way of thinking.

Thus, this question often arises: "How do you know when you're on the way out of your present position?" Here are some telltale signs of an upcoming job loss: you receive no pay increases - you are not invited to important meetings - key, internal office memos bypass your desk - the boss avoids you - you are not invited to lunch or included in coffee breaks with your peers - ideas you submit are ignored or rejected.

The question that most naturally follows, then, is: "If the above signs are apparent, what can you do about it?"

First talk with your boss. Confront him-or her. Learn what is going on. Ask what you can do to preserve your position. From your boss, you will usually receive direction that will be highly helpful if not revealing.

Next, and this most always works, try harder and work smarter (You know you can do this!)

Next, plug into the employee grapevine. Be sure to talk with your peer group. You can learn a lot from them.

Finally, improve your overall attitude and appearance. Buy some new clothes. Get into a health-building exercise program ... and get a good suntan-even if it is from a sun lamp!

"What should you do if you know you are going to be out-placed or de-hired?"

Several specific steps can be taken in winning a new (and often better) position:

Probe for other opportunities with your own company. Many times there are job openings in other departments, division, branches.

Look for possible job openings with your major suppliers.

Alert close friends. Prepare a concise, one-page resume highlighting your strengths, successes, and over-all accomplishments.

PROTECTING YOURSELF AGAINST LOSS

This information has been supplied by experts at The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q Do I have to be a homeowner to own a home owner's policy? My sister and I rent an apartment but we'd still like to be covered in case any of our personal property is stolen or damaged.

A You still can be if you live in an apartment or rent the house you occupy, there's a homeowners policy for you. It's called a "Contents Broad Form" or "Tenants Form." It insures your household against the same damages as your homeowners policy and provides coverage for additional living expenses as well.

Think hard about your career path: What firms interest you? Where do you want to locate? How can you fully utilize your present strengths?

Talk with your minister ... your banker ... and professional executive guidance counselors.

Study and respond to "positions available" ads in your local papers and trade publications.

Ask your present firm to out-place you in a professional manner working with and through top firms specializing in executive de-hiring or relocation activities.

Now some notes at random on how to win a better job: Remember, you first must secure interviews. Prepare well for them.

Suppress your desire to criticize, condemn, or complain.

Be a solution-finder. That's what business wants, needs, and pays well for.

Sharpen your communication skills on paper ... in person ... over the phone.

Tiger netters finish with best season yet

By KEITH FOLSE

The Bay High Tennis Team ended its season on a rather sour note with losses to Moss Point (4-1) and Pascagoula (3-2).

Both of the games were much closer than the team scores indicate, with many of the individual matches being decided by tiebreakers or one service break.

Noella Williams provided the only win for Bay High in the Moss Point-Bay High game by defeating Annette Hunter 5-7, 7-6, 6-2. Moss Point's Randy Hall won over Roderick Singleton 6-0, 6-4.

Moss Point won all three doubles events, but only by a small margin. In girls' doubles, Sarah Montgomery and Kathy Betts edged Bay's Sharon Arnold and Lucinda Kidd 7-6, 7-6. Moss Point's team of Gus Payne and Keith Pope outlasted Charles Darnies and Chuck Newland 6-4, 7-5. In mixed doubles' play, Mike Hale and Teresa Miller edged Keith Folse and Donna Sick 7-6, 7-5.

Moss Point won in B-team play 5-0.

The Pascagoula-Bay High match was a tight contest down to the last event. Pascagoula won the boys' events and Bay High the girls.

David Faust of Pascagoula defeated Roderick Singleton in boys' singles play 6-1, 6-0. Pascagoula's team of Robert Gaines and Mark Haigler won over Frank Henry and Chuck Newland in boys' doubles play in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

In girls' singles play, Noella Williams won for Bay High over Laine Anderson 6-0, 6-0, while the girls doubles team of Lucinda Kidd and Sharon

Arnold tripped Martha Byrd and Ann Fortenberry 6-2, 6-0.

Pascagoula wrapped up the team match with a win in mixed doubles play. The Tiger team of Keith Folse and Donna Sick held off seven match points before falling to Mark Ladnier and Leah Weeks 6-3, 7-5.

In B-team play the Tigers came out on top, also by a score of 3-2.

Bay High claimed a default in boys' singles while the team of Celeste Lizana and Donna Ralph won 8-3 over their competition. Tigerette Charlene Haynes wrapped up a Bay High win with an 8-2 victory over E. Taylor. Pascagoula won in mixed and boys' doubles.

The two losses dropped Bay High's record to 9-4-1, the best win-loss record Bay High has produced yet with its net teams.

Bay High players competed Friday and Saturday in the District 8A-AA tournament held on Gulfport city courts.

The Tigers will resume action Thursday when Bay High, Ocean Springs, and Long Beach Schools will compete in the Gulf Coast Conference Tournament at Ocean Springs.

Bay tracksters track paydirt at conference

Bay Tiger and Tigerette tracksters snaked a third and second place respectively last Thursday in the Gulf Coast Conference track meet staged at Ocean Springs.

The Tigerettes finished

behind Harrison Central. Scoring 37 points they ran past Long Beach who finished with 35, vaulted over Ocean Springs girls, who managed to put just 10 spots on the scoreboard, and shot putted their way well beyond Poplarville who cellared with 7.

Tiger scoring efforts put 38 points into the record books. The count trailed Ocean Springs, who led with 64, and Harrison Central, with 56 and a half. More teams scoring were Poplarville with 31, George County - 26, and Long Beach 23 and a half. Stone County boys also competed but were unable to work their way into points.

Bay scorers were: Tigerettes, Long jump - Lori Fairconnetue, 1, 16 ft. 6 ins. (new conference record); high jump, Fairconnetue, second; 440 yd. relay - 2, Fairconnetue, Cleo Hawkins, Gloria Hargett, Cynthia Jackson; 330 yd. relay - 2, same team as above; 220 yd. dash - 2, Hawkins; 75 yd. dash - 3, Jackson; 100 yd. dash - 3, Hawkins; 75 yd. dash in trials, Hawkins, Jackson, set new school record, time 8.7 secs.

Tiger tote makers were: discus - 3, Jeffrey Read; long jump - 1, Allison Favre, 20 ft. 7 ins.; 440 yd. relay - 2, Steve Acker, Willford Parker, Allison Favre, Mike Thompson; 120 yd. high hurdles - 1, Roy Schubert, time 17 secs; 88 yd. relay - 2, Acker, Parker, Favre, Thompson; 180 yd. low hurdles - 3, Schubert; 880 yd. run - 3, Darrel Singleton; mile relay - 3, Tracey Klein, Parker, Singleton, Paul Saucier.

USM Season ticket sales hit 2,500

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—Passing the 30-day mark in season ticket sales, USM athletic ticket manager Jim Simpson reports the number of tickets sold has hit the 2,500 mark.

"This 2,500 ticket figure is only season tickets," Simpson said, "and we are most pleased with the number of ticket orders for individual games that have come in the first 30 days of sale, also."

Staging the most involved season ticket promotion in the school's history, USM is preparing to open the renovated 36,000-seat stadium, and host an impressive five-game home schedule.

June 1 is the deadline for season ticket priority orders and season ticket priorities are divided into four areas: (1) previous season ticket holders, support organizations (Century Club, Big Gold) and USM faculty and staff; (2) paid-up M Club and USM alumni; (3) alumni and; (4) general public.

A season ticket order requires that the same number of tickets be purchased for all home games. Season ticket seating will be on the east side of the stadium.

How to...

Win a better job-----now!

For more than 20 years on an informal and formal basis, I've worked daily in the increasingly active career counseling profession. In recent weeks, several key questions have frequently been asked of me regarding individual career choices. I'd like to devote this column to discussing these career questions while offering some answers and suggestions to that end.

It seems most working men and women wish for a better job believing their talents are not being fully utilized in their present work. In short, their productivity is low and their responsibilities seem to be dwindling in scope and importance, at least to their way of thinking.

Thus, this question often arises: "How do you know when you're on the way out of your present position?"

Here are some telltale signs of an upcoming job loss: you receive no pay increases; you are not invited to important meetings; key, internal office memos bypass your desk; the boss avoids you; you are not invited to lunch or included in coffee breaks with your peers; ideas you submit are ignored or rejected.

The question that most naturally follows, then, is: "If the above signs are apparent, what can you do about it?"

First talk with your boss. Confront him or her. Learn what is going on. Ask what you can do to preserve your position. From your boss, you will usually receive direction that will be highly helpful if not revealing.

Next, and this most always works, try harder and work smarter. (You know you can do this!)

Next, plug into the employee grapevine. Be sure to talk with your peer group. You can learn a lot from them.

Finally, improve your overall attitude and appearance. Buy some new clothes. Get into a health-building exercise program... and get a good suntan—even if it is from a sun lamp!

"What should you do if you know you are going to be out-placed or de-hired?"

Several specific steps can be taken in winning a new (and often better) position:

Probe for other opportunities with your own company. Many times there are job openings in other departments, division, branches.

Look for possible job openings with your major suppliers.

PROTECTING YOURSELF AGAINST LOSS

This information has been supplied by experts at The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. Do I have to be a homeowner to own a home owner's policy? My sister and I rent an apartment but we'd still like to be covered in case any of our personal property is stolen or damaged.

A. You still can be if you live in an apartment or rent the house you occupy, there's a homeowners policy for you. It's called a "Contents Broad Form" or "Tenants Form." It insures your household against the same damages as your homeowners policy and provides coverage for additional living expenses as well.

Think hard about your career path. What firms interest you? Where do you want to locate? How can you fully utilize your present strengths?

Talk with your minister... your banker... and professional executive guidance counselors.

Study and respond to "positions available" ads in your local papers and trade publications. Ask your present firm to out-place you in a professional manner working with and through top firms specializing in executive de-hiring or relocation activities.

Now some notes at random on how to win a better job:

Remember, you first must secure interviews. Prepare well for them.

Suppress your desire to criticize, condemn, or complain.

Be a solution-finder. That's what business wants, needs, and pays well for.

Sharpen your communication skills on paper... in person... over the phone.

Tiger netters finish with best season yet

By KEITH FOLSE

The Bay High Tennis Team ended its season on a rather sour note with losses to Moss Point (4-1) and Pascagoula (3-2).

Both of the games were much closer than the team scores indicate, with many of the individual matches being decided by tiebreakers or one service break.

Noella Williams provided the only win for Bay High in the Moss Point-Bay High game by defeating Annette Hunter 5-7, 7-6, 6-2. Moss Point's Randy Hall won over Roderick Singleton 6-0, 6-4.

Moss Point won all three doubles events, but only by a small margin. In girls' doubles, Sarah Montgomery and Kathy Betts edged Bay's Sharon Arnold and Lucinda Kidd 7-5, 7-6. Moss Point's team of Gus Payne and Keith Pope outlasted Charles Darnies and Chuck Newland 6-4, 7-5. In mixed doubles' play, Mike Hale and Teresa Miller edged Keith Folse and Donna Dick 7-6, 7-5.

Moss Point won in B-team play 5-0.

The Pascagoula-Bay High match was a tight contest down to the last event. Pascagoula won the boys' events and Bay High the girls.

David Faust of Pascagoula defeated Roderick Singleton in boys' singles play 6-1, 6-0. Pascagoula's team of Robert Gaines and Mark Haigler won over Frank Henry and Chuck Newland in boys' doubles play in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

In girls' singles play, Noella Williams won for Bay High over Laine Anderson 6-0, 6-0, while the girls doubles team of Lucinda Kidd and Sharon

Arnold tripped Martha Byrd and Ann Fortenberry 6-2, 6-0.

Pascagoula wrapped up the team match with a win in mixed doubles play. The Tiger team of Keith Folse and Donna Sick held off seven match points before falling to Mark Ladnier and Leah Weeks 6-3, 7-5.

In B-team play the Tigers came out on top, also by a score of 3-2.

Bay High claimed a default in boys' singles while the team of Celeste Lizana and Donna Ralph won 6-3 over their competition. Tigerette Charlene Haynes wrapped up a Bay High win with an 8-2 victory over E. Taylor. Pascagoula won in mixed and boys' doubles.

The two losses dropped Bay High's record to 9-4-1, the best win-loss record Bay High has produced yet with its net teams.

Bay High players competed Friday and Saturday in the District 8A-AA tournament held on Gulfport city courts.

The Tigers will resume action Thursday when Bay High, Ocean Springs, and Long Beach Schools will compete in the Gulf Coast Conference Tournament at Ocean Springs.

Bay tracksters track paydirt at conference

Bay Tiger and Tigerette tracksters snaked a third and second place respectively last Thursday in the Gulf Coast Conference track meet staged at Ocean Springs.

The Tigerettes finished

behind Harrison Central. Scoring 37 points they ran past Long Beach who finished with 35, vaulted over Ocean Springs girls, who managed to put just 10 spots on the scoreboard, and shot putted their way well beyond Poplarville who cellared with 7. Tiger scoring efforts put 38 points into the record books. The count trailed Ocean Springs, who led with 64, and

Harrison Central, with 56 and a half. More teams scoring were Poplarville with 31, George County - 26, and Long Beach 23 and a half. Stone County boys also competed but were unable to work their way into points.

Bay scorers were: Tigerettes, Long jump - Lori Fairconnetue, 1, 16 ft. 6 ins. (new conference record); high jump, Fairconnetue, second; 440 yd. relay - 2, Fairconnetue, Cleo Hawkins, Gloria Hargett, Cynthia Jackson; 330 yd. relay - 2, same team as above; 220 yd. relay - 2, same team; 50 yd. dash - 2, Hawkins; 75 yd.

USM Season ticket sales hit 2,500

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—Passing the 30-day mark in season ticket sales, USM athletic ticket manager Jim Simpson reports the number of tickets sold has hit the 2,500 mark.

"This 2,500 ticket figure is only season tickets," Simpson said, "and we are most pleased with the number of ticket orders for individual games that have come in the first 30 days of sale, also."

Staging the most involved season ticket promotion in the school's history, USM is preparing to open the renovated 36,000-seat stadium, and host an impressive five-game home schedule.

June 1 is the deadline for season ticket priority orders and season ticket priorities are divided into four areas: (1) previous season ticket holders, support organizations (Century Club, Big Gold) and USM faculty and staff; (2) paid-up M Club and USM alumni; (3) alumni and; (4) general public.

A season ticket order requires that the same number of tickets be purchased for all home games. Season ticket seating will be on the east side of the stadium.

Celia Wilcox was given surprise birthday present recently. Subject of our feature story on Page 2, Clermont Harbor girl was given no time to prepare for photographs as couple of friends told her just enough to make event possible.

"And many more," says Echoes

Many happy returns Celia, from Sheila and Evelyn Bell

A few weeks back, Sunday Echoes was contacted by Sheila Bell, who wanted to give her friend, Celia Wilcox of Waveland, a special and different type of birthday present.

Lacking a host of cash, she hit on the idea of sponsoring a display of her friend's work.

"Celia is an excellent artist," she told us, adding, "I have seen reproductions of sketches and things in your supplement and thought it would be nice if you would put some of her pictures in it too."

Of course, due to nature of the enterprise, it was necessary to "spill the beans" to Miss Wilcox, who, after the initial shock, made her work available.

Friend promoter Sheila, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bell of Blue Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

Also a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bell, and thickly involved in the caper, is Evelyn Bell, 13.

Between the plotting of the reliable firm of (alphabetically) Evelyn and Sheila, it is a wonder that something far more devious than this Echoes article was not conceived.

In confidence, the pair did admit to one or two considered alternates, but suppressed detailed planning upon securing our promise of cooperation.

Celia, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wilcox of Waveland.

Born April 28, 1961, she says the novelty and surprise of this birthday present leaves her speechless.

"Sheila, Evelyn, and I are the very best of friends. Trust those two to come up with something different," she said.

Celia has been drawing, according to her mother, since she was about two years old.

Most of her art portrays both wild and domestic animals in their natural habitat, although considerable variation is expressed through portraiture, still life, and when the occasion demands, cartoons.

Celia says she has slight preference for the sciences and music, although

Trio behind bars

Super-spy, the victim, and the instigator, peer from "behind bars" in Wilcox home, Clermont Harbor she is fond of all her school work.

A student at Bay Junior High School, as are her friends, she is a member of the school chorus and possesses an almost instinctive knowledge of both American and world history.

"I like to sew and embroider and kinda' like helping around the house," she said when asked of her other activities.

Evelyn says Celia is a good songstress and dancer.

"We make up songs and dances on campus and this April birthday girl is one of our star performers," the youngest member of the trio allowed.

Sheila just grinned to this, but did reveal the source of her knowledge concerning her friend's cartooning ability.

"Celia writes lots of notes to most everybody in school.

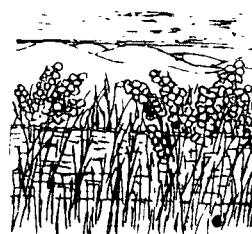

"These notes are fun and they are illustrated with versions of Casper the Ghost!" said "good buddy."

The three have a great relationship. We are proud to have been asked to join in the fun.

Celia - Happy Birthday from Sunday Echoes.

And, Celia - a very special Happy Birthday greeting from your friends Sheila and Evelyn.

Be proud in that you have, between you, the one thing that eludes many people all their lives. (J-)

Pebbles, and Gertrude, Charter Member (CM) National Organization for the Liberation of Female and Indigenous Rocks (NOLFIR), to discuss any possible areas of difference concerning competition rules in our intended pet rock roll and joust.

Prior to delving too deeply into actual events, it is felt strong and bitter complaint must be registered concerning your transportation arrangements. Just because we are pet rocks, (and a sweeter pair of rocks you are not likely to meet) there is absolutely no excuse for relaying us through a series of sling-shot shots on our way North, and trying to enforce a "walk-back" policy for our return.

In the first place, our trip out was punctured more by misfires, blats into mountain sides, skipping across lakes, and snowball encasement rolls, than the expected luxurious accommodations aboard a jet. It was not until we smartened up and applied dogged determination we were able to make time, leaping from one greyhound to another.

Secondly, your "let Pepper walk" philosophy misfired when my charming wife, Peppy, managed to sneak us passage as paper weights on the surface of traveling desk salesman's sample wares.

Overall, the trip cannot be described as having been in any way successful.

NOLFIR CM Gertrude is a snerd. Even talking frankly on a rock to rock basis it is impossible to make an impression on her bejeweled, ample exterior.

As for Pebbles, he is totally under the domination of this fearful specimen who ground her way into the NOLFIR presidency through her acquaintanceship with the quarry superintendent. Now holding a virtually unchallenged monopoly on decision as to which rocks finish up as building blocks, which are crushed for gold fish bowl gravel, or even worse, which are utilized for dam foundations (and thus never see the light of day again), Gertrude is indeed in the position of maintaining a heavy sheaf of votes.

It would appear our salvation lies in maintaining close liaison with the Indigenous Rocks of America (IRA) as nobody messes around with the IRA! This group's attorneys, G.R. Anite and Q.U. Artz (the AA for stoned rocks), appear to be competent individuals with almost!

A further report will be forthcoming, after opportunity for a review of a tape, taken in interview with Pebbles, can be made.

In the meantime, it is with regret we report a complete change of personality has taken place in Peppy since her conversations with Gertrude. Please be patient in any dealings you may have with my formerly, sweet and devoted wife.

Signed - Your humble servant and resident, staff pet rock and advisor on rocky things, Dr. Pepper.

Judges rule

Tommy and Tammy Bergeron, couple of fine looking twins, are children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bergeron of Thomas St., Bay St. Louis. When asked to judge value of exploits of Dr. Pepper and wife, Peppy, Tommy replied, "Yes" and Tammy said, "No." On this one to one vote the umpire declared a draw.

Next door neighbor came flying into house yesterday slamming door behind her.

"A little green snake is on backyard sidewalk," she screamed.

"No sweat," her husband replied, watching strike count hike up on afternoon TV baseball game, "green snakes are not poisonous."

"Listen buster," she snapped, "if a thing that big can make me move out faster than I have since trying out for track in junior high, he doesn't have to be poisonous!"

Forget your wife's birthday?

Cool her sparking jets with, "Honey, how do you expect me to remember your birthday when you keep looking younger all the time?"

Grandma stood her false teeth on stand alongside bed.

Four year old grandson moseyed by, took look at the choppers and expounded, "Hey Grandmamma, look at the big smile on your teeth!"

Left at baby sitters young Sam showed leaning for future success. Knowing distribution of chow was generally made on equal basis, he sidled up to new guardian and laid on dose of flattery.

"Gee," he said, "you smell better than mommy. She smells like roses and stuff, but you smell like French fries!"

Saddled with spring cleaning lawn, Thomas-the-teenage terror balked at compulsory duties. Inspection by paternal authority led to question how next door property could look so neat and trim while homestead outdoors still resembled battleground.

Thomas knew buddy over fence was being paid for job, while his responsibilities were more in line with "chores a fellow ought to be glad to undertake."

Swinging into the question he replied, "Well Dad, it is the difference of result achieved by the members of a free enterprise society and those of a dictatorship."

Contest No. 14

'Well, where/what is it?'

"Well, where-what is it?" will portray a different, well known area scene, or article, location or item for each contest. Each will be presented in disguised photographic form, with the complete description being provided upon completion of each contest. Clues, in the form of poetic verse, will be given, with additional lines being added each week the contest location or item remains unsolved.

It takes the "Where" to win as well as the "What"

Contest No. 14, now into its second week, has been afforded the difficulty factor of eunch! And that is above average one must admit. Our chief "mail stamper-inner," and chief "contest mail letter-opener" had an easy week. For the first time since we started the series nobody responded to the first clue. True, we did receive a couple of telephone calls, asking some sneaky questions, but with our usual stalwart defiance, we resisted giving further leads. Clue No. 2 will probably do the trick as this is something most everybody has seen. Next mail will be opened after all letters received on Thursday, April 29, 1976. Good Luck!

Clue No. 1

This faces South
And serves to hold
The ones who pass us by,
Go North a piece
From where we are
Look up - but not too high!

Clue No. 2

We used to go
A different way,
But now this lets us choose,
Between the North
Or Southern routes, when
East-west we want to cruise.

Begins report

Firmly clutching pencil Dr. Pepper, staff pet rock, begins report on recent trip. This effort was later replaced by interoffice memorandum.

Expenses totalled

Sunday Echoes staff pet rock, the former craggy but now tamed Dr. Pepper, works keys of calculator as wife, former tame but now craggy, Peppy, reads from prepared list. Totals will have to be carefully checked but Peppy states trip to Nahani Butte to see NOLFIR CM Gertrude and spineless Mr. J.C. Pebbles, president, Pebbles, Beach, and Boulder, took considerable time and cash.

Holds ladder

Mild mannered Dr. Pepper holds ladder steady for wife Peppy as pair make way back to Sunday Echoes office following return from British Columbia.
